Ensanguined Garments Were Discovered in the Dark Chamber Where Mrs. Conner and Her Daughter. Pearl. Slept-All Articles Microscopically Examined by Experts.

Several Rooms Bespattered With

This Evidence of Murder.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Human blood has been found in Holmes' castle, bespattered from one room to another. Science, aided by Detectives Fitzpatrick and Norton, where other agencies had failed, has uncovered more startling evidence against H. H. Holmes and Pat Quinlan than has been found in the castle.

There was found in the castle by the detectives and a medical expert, a trail of blood leading from the dining room of Mrs. Julia L. Connor to the sink in the same room; from there into the dark cham-ber where she and Pearl formerly slept, and from there to the inside of the door opening into the bath room, where the trap door was; on the baseboard of that room, above the trap door, and down on to the secret staircase which led to the false elevator shaft, and thence into the base-

BLOODY GARMENTS FOUND

Also from the debris in the dark cham was taken some child's underwear stained with blood; a pair of brown diagonal rousers stained at the bottom with blood; the pocket of a woma.'s dress, blood-soaked; a handkerchief, which had been used to wipe up blood with and various cloths and parts of underclothing soaked with blood.

These articles were examined microscopically at the time of their discovery and the test made then and there showed the stains and blotches to be human blood. With but one or two exceptions, the experts say, they were all marked with hu-man blood.

A rope was found in the dark chamber and in its knots blood was discovered. In Pat Quintan's private living rooms were found two trunks of the theatrical type. One was purchased from Mecks, in beneer. On both trunks were the initials, "M. R. W." Ti-se initials had been painted-over. The initials are those of Minnie Williams.

Pat Quinlau stated after his being taken into custody that both the trunks belonged to him. Detectives Norton and Fizzpatrick have now the truth that both trunks be-longed to Minnie Williams.

appointed assistant city postmaster to succeed Henry Sherwood, whom Post-master James Willett had retained as MINNIE WILLIAMS' BOOKS. master James Willett had retained as assistant until he could become thoroughly familiar with the work of the office.

Mr. Wilson is at present superintendent of the supply division of the Postoffice Department, where the qualifications that recommended him for his new position held him for four years. It is said that he was offered his choice between the position he has taken and that of chief cierk in the Postoffice Department. He will retain Quinlan was confronted with this new vidence. He will also be faced with book -found in his possession, and which be-longed to Minnie Williams. There are Lippincott magazines bearing date as late as April, 1894, demonstrating that Min nie Williams was alive at that time The fact that one of her trunks was bought in Deuver is explained by the in-formation, already secured by Chief Bade-noch, that after she entered the employ of Hobres, and finally left Chicago, she en-tered the theatrical business in Deuver, Chief Badenoch has also secured, in addi-

The new assistant, though still a young man, is considered eminently fitted for the work he is to enter, and is a thorough business man. His friends in the department will regret the change. Chief Badenech has also secured, in addition to the above widence, which his detectives brought to him to night, positive proof that Benjamin F. Pietzel was at Dwight as a patient.

The inference drawn by the officers from the trail of blood which was discovered was that the blood, being human, came from some person who was killed in the dar! chamber, dragged from there to the trap door, thence down the secret stairway to the busement beneath.

A chemical analysis of all the blood will inn ediately folk w. The bloody doors Lost Boy Found After the Police Had Eighth precinct police station last night about 9 o'clock and requested Station Of-

My visits to those establishments were always unberalded, and therefore there was no special preparation made for a general viewing of their premises, and their methods of slaughtering, cooking and canning beef. From those thorough official investigations I am justified in denying as wholly untrue all that is asserted in that statement in regard to American canned meats." from which Nash deserted on July 25.

Bicycle Riding Can Be Neither Modest

Riding the bicycle has ceased to be either undignified or conspicuous. Several years ago a hishop denounced the practice by wo-men as immodest and therefore immoral. The bicycle has nothing whatever to do with modesty or immedesty, with morality or with immorality; and when the plous bishop uttered his denunciation of the machine and its use his intellectuals must have been befuddled by too much pondering on subjects too hard or too easy for him. But his dictum has not counted for much, for the bicycle is growing in popularity every day.
